Fundraising Campaign Tops $130,000

The NC Delta Campaign for Excellence has received major gifts totaling over $130,000 to date, enabling to add many features to the house including finishing the sprinkler system, installing Internet connections and being the only fraternity house at UNC with a wireless Internet system. The funds have also paid for replacement of all interior doors with professional hardware (for fire safety), replacement of all windows with vinyl thermo panes, painting and landscaping.

Our sincere thanks to the supporters listed on page 5. If you would like to make a gift toward the campaign, or to increase your gift you can do so by calling either Carter Smith, 800-861-7023, or Ron Binder, 866-355-2294. We are also in need of additional class representatives to contact a few classmates and encourage them to support the campaign. What a great way to reconnect with your brothers! To volunteer your time as a class representative or steering committee member, please contact Carter Smith at 800-861-7023 or csgama@aol.com.

Alumni Updates

Henry G. Absher '62 (1890 Baynham Dr., Dunwoody, GA 30338; habsher@mindspring.com) Having retired almost 11 years ago, I continue to enjoy it very much, though there's too much to do and so little time to do it. I stay in touch with several brothers on a regular basis. Doug Squillario, Clark Smith and I frequently exchange e-mails and see each other from time to time. Clark stayed with Sarah and me when he came to Atlanta for the Peach Bowl this winter.

Christopher Seawell '68 (P.O. Box 339, Manteo, NC 27954) I am marking my 25th year as a partner with the law firm Aldridge, Seawell, Felthousen and Malarney in Manteo, NC. My son, William '02, another Sig Ep brother, graduated in May with a B.A. in Economics. Other brothers living in Manteo include Dick Parker, '70, a judge, and Fletcher Willey '69.

Tony L. Pope '68 (3326 Annandale Rd., Durham, NC 27705; tpope92046@aol.com) I am now retired after 32 years with the same bank. We have a 3-year-old grandson and our daughter is expecting twins this summer - we'll be in Charlotte a lot. I talked to Troy Newsome last Friday night. He and Ann still live in Tampa. Troy is working with a small local bank and Ann has one more year to teach before she retires. Hope the newsletter will prompt others to get in touch.

William W. Crownover '70 (8 Pine Spring Dr., Asheville, NC 28805-1515; billcrownover@aol.com) I'm happy to say that I retired in February 2001, after 30 years from the NC Dept. of Revenue as an audit supervisor and am now consulting with businesses and tax professionals in WNC. My family continues to grow with our second grandbaby due this summer. I have enjoyed recent Chapel Hill reunions with Bob Hill, Dick Parker, and Glenn Tucker and their wives. My travels have been fun and adventurous in the last 18 months but look forward mostly to my wife's retirement in a few years.

R. Walt Sherlin '71 (415 Forsyth St., Raleigh, NC 27609) I am an associate superintendent with the Wake County public school System. My wife, Mary Penn, is a district manager for Bristol Myers/Squibb. I have two sons who both graduated from UNC as PIKAs. For the past 25 years, I've been taking a fall golf outing with several brothers from 1970-75.

Richard R. Newell '72 (1 Planters Ln., Savannah, GA 31411-2810; rrrn0713@aol.com) Senior Vice President Bank of America Private Bank in Savannah, GA. I enjoy following the Tar Heels as best we can from Georgia and play golf (usually only on Saturday mornings) to a 10 handicap. I stay in touch with a few old Sig Eps during an annual golf outing with the Bruce Arnett group. One day when I retire, I anticipate moving back to NC.

Ronald W. Woodard '72 (208 Lewiston Ct., Cary, NC 27513) My wife, Dona Woodard, and I are enjoying life in Cary, NC, and I get to occasionally see brothers in the Raleigh area. Our son, Jeff, is 6 years old and we just returned from a trip to Disney World. My 30th anniversary with Motorola Inc. is coming soon.

James L. Blane '73 (3246 Valencia Ter., Charlotte, NC 28211) I am still practicing law here in Charlotte, as a sole practitioner. Janet, my wife of 26 years, is better than ever and our two children are 22 and 20. The eldest, Alexis, graduated from Duke summa cum laude this past weekend and she will head off to Oxford in October for her two year stint under the Rhodes scholarship program. The younger, Brent, is a freshman at Chapel Hill and will hopefully continue to enjoy his stay as much as he has enjoyed his first year.

Herman Grady Morgan '73 (1111 Tennwood Dr., Wilmington, NC 28411; hgmtd@aol.com) I am still living in Wilmington, NC and am a senior partner with the Children's Clinic, a division of Wilmington Health Assoc. My oldest son, Nick, graduated from UNC last year and is spending a year in Americorps. My youngest son, Scott, is finishing his sophomore year at UNC. For the past 7-8 years, I play golf on a weekend each fall with 12-16 brothers. People from the classes of '71-75 include Ron Darden, Bruce Arnette, CB Armstrong, Dachel Propes, Jim Adams, Barry Arnette, John Gilcrist, Mike Prince, Walt Sherlin, Rick Newell, Ralph Huff, Jim Griffin, and Ed Nassif. This has been a wonderful weekend of golf and brotherhood. This golf weekend has been going on for at least 12 years.

James E. Nance '73 (1416 Northridge Dr., Albemarle, NC 28001) I am a Chevrolet dealer in Albemarle, N.C. Helen and I have three daughters and will be attending graduation at Chapel Hill for one of them this spring. The oldest graduated from that college in Winston-Salem, but the youngest will be a junior at UNC next year. On occasion, I see Bob Slaughter, Tim Turner, Ron Woodard, Mark Andrew, and Mike Prince (at football games). I'll be at all home football games this year. Last time I was in Chapel Hill, the house looked like Bill Rendleman needed to spend about two months there with his cleaning skills and high energy.

Gary Hollinsworth '76 (1700 Richwood Ct., Raleigh, 27612) is in his sixth year working with U.S. Food Service's Raleigh office. He and his wife, Linda, have three children, Michael, 20, a junior at Western Carolina, Cullowhee, NC who is studying business administration; and Brian, 17, and Stephen, 15, who are students at Broughton High School in Raleigh.

Fraternity Combines Different Backgrounds; Friendships Extend Beyond College

Tell us about your favorite memory of the fraternity.

I can't identify one particular memory. Instead, it's more of a wash of memories. At virtually every hour of every day, there was someone around who was more than happy to play foosball with you downstairs, shoot basketball on the parking lot hoop, or just sit on the front bench and fritter the time away.

With whom do you still stay in contact?

The brothers from my era have played an important role in my life. They have become amalgamated into the various circles of friends that have developed over time and are no longer a separate Sig Ep circle. I now see them regularly at weddings, bachelor parties, and various trips. During the last three New Year's Eves, at least 20 of us have been together — not because we are Sig Eps, but because we've grown beyond the bonds of fraternity to the bonds of true friends.

Why did you join Sig Ep?

I first came to Sig Ep with a bunch of guys from South Campus, three of whom later become my pledge brothers — Juan Hernandez (my Catholic best friend and roommate), Allen Serkin (our long-haired Jewish suite mate), and Jimmy Moore (a hard rock singer with girl's hair from the floor above). We had been making the rounds at virtually all of the fraternities, but our interest was piqued in Sig Ep because it didn't fit the "cookie cutter" model. There were athletes hanging out with Morehead Scholars, there were rednecks embracing city slickers, there were white guys living as best friends with Indians, there were Yankees extolling the virtues of their southern brothers. This was a place where you were seen for the art in you, not for how well you "fit the mold."

20th Annual Slugfest Raises $2,000 for Charity

Philanthropy and community service are extremely important activities for NC Delta.

More than 250 hours were spent during the most recent school year in raising money for various charities. The most recent event met with great success.

On May 1, the fraternity sponsored a five-band party that lasted nearly half a day, going from 3 p.m. until 2 a.m.

In addition to providing all those who attended with great music, the fraternity raised $2,000 for charity. The money from the 20th annual Slugfest went to a couple of local charities.

The fraternity participated in several other fundraisers as well. We do random clean-ups and other events to aid Ronald McDonald House Charities, which supports programs that directly improve the health and well being of children through local and national efforts.

Another important philanthropic project is the local Adopt-A-Highway program, which helps preserve the beauty of local highways.

The fraternity helps keep the vehicles on the road clean as well as the highways themselves.

Brothers are also involved in occasional car washes throughout the course of the year. The money is used for a variety of items.

A golf outing is planned as well, though no details are available at this time.

Thank You 2001-02 Annual Giving Contributors!

Since September 1, 2001, the brothers on this list have demonstrated their devotion to Sig Ep by making a contribution to our annual giving program. (Note: Supporters of the NC Delta Campaign for Excellence are recorded separately. See page 5.) We give to ensure that our traditions live on and to preserve a place for our reunions and a link to that meaningful time in our lives. We also give to keep friendships together through newsletters and other communication links. Can we add your name to this honor roll of devoted Sig Eps? We have provided a postage-paid envelope for your convenience, or you can log on to www.uncsigeps.org and make a secure donation online.

Profile: Joseph M. Gordon '79

Former Social Committee Chairman

Recalls the "Shoebox"

Mention the "Shoebox" and the mind of Joseph M. Gordon '79 floods with fond memories. He shared some of those in this brief Q&A.

Why did you join Sig Ep?

To party with a select group of good guys and have a smaller niche of friends versus the larger population of UNC with over 20,000 students, and to get away from all the snoop dogs on the South Campus so I could hang out with higher caliber coeds that I met through our mixers.

Tell us about your favorite memory of the fraternity.

It has to be the wild sorority mixers in the "Shoebox" before our old house was demolished to make way for an expensive new one. I was social chairman so I always had to sell hard to convince the more snooty sororities that we had a great bunch of svelte young studs. My best story is the time I sponsored an all-campus party on the ECU football home opener weekend in 1978 with Archie Bell and The Drells ("AB & The D's") and got ECU's interfraternity council to chip in $500 for the 20-plus keg party on the afternoon before the big game. One small problem occurred when Mr. Ken, aka The Human Hammer, an ECU student at the time and old high school friend from Winston-Salem, called me on Thursday evening to let me know that ECU fans thought our party was Saturday afternoon before the game that night. Only problem was that Kenan did not have lights. So I went to NCNB at 9 a.m. Friday and got cash because, as they say in show business, the party must go on!

What kind of influence has the fraternity had on your life?

Relationships are very important and I have enjoyed staying in touch with a bunch of the old guys, including Larry at Ken's Quickie Mart. University Square only hired Sig Eps so I was fortunate to get a job for three years that made me the one to know six nights a week as to who and where the best parties were. Being adjacent to Granville Towers, suffice it to say I became close friends with many coeds in Granville East.

With whom do you still stay in contact?

Pat Rearden and Dave Wilson to be sure; however, my best friend from those days is Gary Joyner, a true friend and colleague who helped me sell my company successfully and then exit under most advantageous terms. Gary is a very successful attorney in Raleigh with Kilpatrick Stockton, the largest law firm in the Southeast.

Who would you most like to find?

Sarge, our cook, and bookie, who still owes me on the Stanford/Cal miracle game of '76. And Kip Marshall, the guy who lusted for Marie Nance when she was studying football film with Bill Dooley.

Tell us about your family: Have you married? Do you have children?

I finally married for the first time to Kristina Owens in 2000 in Hawaii at the Princeville resort on Kauai and have a baby girl named Anna Grace born last September. Talk about timing! These are all firsts for me as I was married to my work for the first 20 years and then decided it was time to experience all the family things and would have the time to truly enjoy the experience.

What other activities or organizations were you involved with during your college days?

I played intramurals and was on the basketball team as a sophomore that played the graduate school legendary Dental Heelers for the championship. Although we lost, it was great fun. My other activities were being social chairman for two years with the legendary venture capitalist, Blount Swain, and begging the best looking sororities to give us a chance, lest we have to go Tri Sig or Phi Mu one more time. Egad! These were nice girls, but coyotes ruled.

What is your nickname, if applicable, and how did you get it?

Big Toe Joe and it was given me by a Phi Gam nut named Richard Battle. I was also known as the beer keg man of last resort since I was always at the last frat party of the night when the kegs went dry and Ken's was a stone's throw away.

Did you live in the house? If so, who were your roommates?

I lived in the "Shoebox" and it was not much of a house. I try not to remember my roommate because it was like living in a Chinese housing project in Hong Kong. I have a walk-in closet in my home now bigger than my frat room. Bunk beds are interesting, especially when your roommate brings home a date.

What do you do for a living?

I own a new company named GAM, LLC, a wealth management firm focused on serving the CEOs and other key management of private companies as they transition into retirement and create a liquid income stream for their illiquid private company stock. I built and sold a company in 2000 to a venture-backed startup named Invesmart. This company focuses on servicing retirement plans. I personally have had a hand in designing and installing over 300 corporate retirement plans over the last 20 years.

What affiliations do you currently have or public service do you participate in?

I am a member of numerous industry trade associations in the financial services industry. I have an active CFP license. I am involved in the American Society of Pension Actuaries and Consultants. I am Series 7 and 24 licensed in the securities business and run a branch office for an independent broker-dealer named Capital Investment Group, Inc, in Raleigh, NC.

What hobbies do you enjoy?

I like golf, wine and women, although the women part is restricted to window-shopping now that I am married.

What are your goals for the next few years?

I am 45 and plan to go reasonably hard to 55, but only for 4 days a week. I want to help as many baby boomers take maximum advantage of the Bush tax act over the next 10 years. I want to enjoy my wife and daughter.

Where Are They Now?

The partial list of missing brothers below illustrates the difficult task of keeping current with the whereabouts of our alumni. We want to get reconnected! If you can provide a complete address for any of these brothers, please send the name and complete address in the enclosed envelope, or e-mail us at news@2stayconnected.com.
